

OCBC STAFF TO PORTRAY NATION'S "COLOURFUL" FIFTY YEARS THIS THURSDAY

Kuala Lumpur, 23 August 2007 – OCBC Bank (Malaysia) Berhad's 3,600 staff nationwide – both frontline and backroom, from CEO to clerk – will recount the nation's "colourful" past this Merdeka eve (Thursday) by donning T-shirts which creatively communicate the various elements of the country's progress.

According to OCBC Bank (Malaysia) Berhad's Director & CEO Dato' Albert Yeoh, unlike similar exercises by the Bank over the past two years, this year would be different.

"In previous years, our staff would come to work on Merdeka eve in specially designed batik attire or T-shirts that depicted the Merdeka theme for the year. This year, however, we chose to match the initiative with the creativity and subtlety that has become the hallmark of our nation's approach to progress.

"Like this progress, which requires a person to delve deeply in order to uncover and appreciate the gains that the people have enjoyed, you would also need to examine the design of the T-shirt deeply in order to uncover the message it communicates," he said.

The various elements of the T-shirt's design have been meshed together to create what appears to be a kaleidoscope of colours which stand for diverse themes ranging from growth to balance & harmony; city life to environmental care; careful use of natural resources to rapid industrial development; national unity to the individuality of each Malaysian; and so forth.

“In essence, the T-shirt design reflects the country’s sustained and thoughtful progress since independence 50 years ago. The icons on the T-shirts represent the various cornerstones of the nation.

“Our staff look forward each year to demonstrate their nationalistic pride by donning these T-shirts to help them communicate their oneness with the country. As a corporation, we are proud to be a part of Malaysia’s rich history since our origins in 1912...and we are honoured to take our place yet again among other corporate citizens in celebrating another year of independence,” Dato’ Yeoh added.

The T-shirts were designed by local artist and entrepreneur Peter Hoe, who began designing batik 17 years ago and currently runs the Peter Hoe lifestyle stores in Kuala Lumpur.
