Name of Financial Service Provider: OCBC Bank (Malaysia) Berhad (199401009721 (295400-W)) (the "Bank")

1. Know your Dual Currency Investment

Dual Currency Investment ("DCI" or "Investment") is a Foreign Currency Exchange-linked Structured Investment. This Investment comprises of 2 essential features. First is a placement of Principal Amount as investment in the original currency of the Investment ("Base Currency") and secondly, payment by the Bank of the Principal Amount and interest on the Investment on the Maturity Date, in either the Base Currency or in the Alternate Currency at the pre-agreed Strike Rate. In return of giving the Bank the right to repay the Principal Amount and interest in either the Base Currency or in the Alternate Currency, investor(s) stand to earn an enhanced interest higher than prevailing time deposit (of the Base Currency) of the equivalent tenure. The actual returns on your Investment depend on the details spelt out in the Term Sheet. DCI is NOT protected by Perbadanan Insurans Deposit Malaysia.

3. Know Your Risks

BENEFITS

In return of giving the Bank the right to repay the Principal Amount and interest in either the Base Currency or in the Alternate Currency, investor(s) stand to earn an enhanced interest higher than prevailing time deposit (of the Base Currency) of the equivalent tenure.

The Redemption at maturity will be credited into the customer's account with the Bank on Maturity Date.

REMINDER: Past Performance is not indicative of future performance.

RISKS

Credit Risk – Investor(s) are placing funds with the Bank and are therefore relying on the Bank's ability to pay any interest and the Principal Amount at maturity.

Market Risk & Liquidity Risk – The market value of this Investment is subject to many factors, including, but not limited to the foreign exchange rate, levels of foreign exchange rate volatility and the implied future direction and liquidity of such factors.

Premature Withdrawal Risk – Investor(s) seeking to withdraw the Investment prior to the Maturity Date may receive an amount that is substantially less than the Principal Amount depending on the prevailing market condition.

Option Risk – This Investment is combined from many financial instruments including options. Hence, the interest/yield and/or the currency of this Investment amount to be repaid of this Investment will depend on the details of the option as spelt out in the Term Sheet.

Currency Risk – Although the Investment is made in the Base Currency, the Bank has the absolute right to pay investor(s) on Maturity Date of the Investment, an amount in the pre-agreed Alternate Currency instead of the Principal Amount and interest of the Investment in the Base Currency. A decline in the Alternate Currency relative to the Base Currency will most certainly result in the Bank exercising its right to pay investor(s) the Alternate Currency. The result is that investor(s) will have a weaker Alternate Currency to the Base Currency and also subjected to risk fluctuation in the Alternate Currency which could substantially (depending on the decline in the Alternate Currency) reduce what investor(s) otherwise had at the time investor(s) established his/her Investment with the Bank.

REMINDER: You should understand and consider all risk factors carefully before making an investment decision.

4. Other Key Terms

You are advised to read the Term Sheet and other related documents for detailed descriptions of the risks. You are also advised to carefully consider all risk factors before making an investment decision.
